Moore Named Leader in Banking Excellence

For immediate release
August 7, 2018

Dan L. Moore, president, CEO and director of Home Bank, Martinsville, was honored by the Indiana Bankers Association (IBA) as a Leader in Banking Excellence at an awards ceremony held on Aug. 3. The leadership award, initiated this year, recognizes exceptional bankers who have positively impacted Indiana banks and the communities they serve. Along with Moore, eight other members of the Indiana banking community were named to the inaugural class of Leaders in Banking Excellence.

The awards ceremony took place at the IBA offices in Indianapolis, with presentations from dignitaries including Congressman Trey Hollingsworth; Director Thomas C. Fite, Indiana Department of Financial Institutions; Senators Rodric Bray and Travis Holdman; IBA Chairman Clay W. Ewing, German American Bank, Jasper; and IBA President and CEO Amber R. Van Til. The ceremony culminated with the showing of the IBA Leaders in Banking Excellence wall, where plaques representing each honoree are to remain on permanent display.

The plaque for Mr. Moore reads as follows:

Dan L. Moore is president, CEO and director of Home Bank, Martinsville. Additionally, he is vice chair of the board of directors of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis and a member of the Mutual Savings Association Advisory Committee of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Moore began his banking career in 1974. He is a past director of the Indiana Bankers Association, and he has been active with the Morgan County Economic Development Corp., Stability First, Confessing Movement of the United Methodist Church, IU Health Morgan Hospital and the University of Indianapolis School of Business. A unique endeavor initiated under Moore's leadership is the Home Bank Community Gifting Program, allocating 10 percent of bank net earnings to community nonprofits. A graduate of Indiana State University, Moore earned a master's degree from Indiana Wesleyan University.

The Indiana Bankers Association extends congratulations to the 2018 class of Leaders in Banking Excellence:
