BSA Graduate School

This two-day program is designed for BSA professionals who are competent in the core requirements of Bank Secrecy Act rules and will provide a higher level of lecture, training, and interactive discussion regarding the challenges of developing and managing an effective BSA program. Cybercrime is becoming more and more challenging, and significant time will be devoted to this subject. It is hoped that attendees will be willing to share "war stories" from their experience, as well as receiving a wealth of information from the presenter. Much of the discussion will revolve around real life BSA situations. This school will also address the updated BSA Exam Manual published in 2020 and 2021 and any up to the minute changes.

Cybercrime / Updated BSA Exam Manual

The course will include lecture and round table discussions regarding BSA hot topics. Included will be the issue of marijuana related business (which are likely in your future) and their potential short- and long-term impact on your bank. A portion of the program will be managing a BSA program, including the use of technology in the detection of BSA issues. Topics are listed in the agenda. In addition, the class will learn to design an effective BSA program through the study of workflow charts, which will be provided.

The course will rely heavily on a round table discussion. The facilitator will guide the group through a number of pre-determined discussion topics, as well as topics requested by the attendees. Each attendee is encouraged to contribute at least one topic they would like to discuss, and attendees will be solicited for topics prior to the school.

Who Should Attend?

The BSA Graduate School is designed for individuals who have a good working of all aspects of the BSA regulations and rules. While not limited to BSA officers, the instructors will presume BSA competency. This program is not designed to teach the basic elements of BSA.
