

NEWS CONFERENCE

Report on the State of Economic Education in Indiana K-12 Schools

February 16, 2018

Members of the media and the Indiana banking community are invited to a news conference, co-hosted by the Indiana Council for Economic Education (ICEE) and the Indiana Bankers Association (IBA), covering the state of economic education in Indiana K-12 schools.

Date: Friday, Feb. 16

Time: 9:15 a.m. EST, preceded with light refreshments served at 8:45 a.m.

Location: IBA offices, 8425 Woodfield Crossing Blvd., Suite 155E, Indianapolis

Representatives of the ICEE and IBA will unveil results of a national report detailing the state of K-12 economic and financial education, conducted by the Council for Economic Education and the American Bankers Association Foundation. Other topics to be covered include:

- A snapshot of economic and financial education in Indiana;
- Opportunities and challenges facing K-12 economic education in Indiana;
- The role of the banking industry in economic and financial education.

“Economics and personal finance are essential components in making sure students are college, career and civically ready. Fortunately, these topics can easily be integrated into other subject areas or applied to classroom activities,” says Jeff Sanson, ICEE executive director.
